To adapt and evolve

The year 2020 has been overwhelmed by the arrival of Covid-19, weakening a little more the most disadvantaged, the development of projects of companies, putting on hold a certain number of our international activities and most of the planned mobilities.

After a few weeks of reduced activity for the team, we had to bounce back, propose online activities, accept not to meet face to face, and adapt. Also, we had to train and master these new tools that are now well known to everyone: Zoom is becoming the reference tool, whether we like it or not.

The year 2020 is also a turning point for the association, which obtained the approval to receive young volunteers in Civic Service, and hired a management assistant and a communication officer: the team is growing!

The reduction in activity also meant taking the time to redefine the association’s project and to strengthen our partnership with the Mouvement du Nid Martinique. Thus, the project of the creation of a shared place between the two associations was born: Le Trois Lieu. The first stone is laid, we will have to wait until next year to discover this space which wants to be feminist, citizen and a bridge between the Caribbean and Europe.

The year 2020 was rich in emotion and full of uncertainties, but it is always with more passion that the team learnt how to bounce back and prepare a year 2021 that promises to be extraordinary.
NEWS FROM D'ANTILLES ET D'AILLEURS

In 2020, D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs has undergone two important changes in terms of visibility:

◊ A new website: http://www.dantillesetdailleurs.org/

This new site includes all the actions and projects of D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs, based on the official graphic charter of the structure. It also highlights the local partnerships, the mobilities carried out and the people reached, and includes a resource center gathering all the tools created by D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs and its international and local partners.

◊ A new logo: D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs modernized its logo in 2020 with a rounder, more readable format and a new font.

STRENGTHENING THE COLLABORATION WITH OUR LOCAL PARTNERS

During the year 2020, several actions and activities had to be postponed or cancelled due to the COVID-19 health crisis and the repeated lock downs. However, this year also saw the emergence of solidarity and numerous exchanges with different organizations and institutions at the local level, in order to elaborate together projects to help people in need during the crisis and to prepare the best possible actions after the crisis.

Thus, the year 2020 has allowed us to create and strengthen local partnerships of D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs with neighborhood associations, organizations, institutions: Emergences Secourisme / Mouvement du Nid / Culture Egalité / CAESM / CEMEA / Madin KB / DJSCS.

GLOBAL FIGURES 2020

- 21 Financial Supports
- 18 Young People & Youth Workers who went on Mobility
- 12 International Projects Set Up
- +120 Partners Around the World
- 9 Local Projects Implemented
I. YOUTH & INTERNATIONAL MOBILITY
This year, the Covid-19 crisis had a strong impact on several activities of D’Antilles et D’Ailleurs and in particular on the mobility projects, due to the health crisis and the governmental measures put in place in different countries during the year.

Six young people from D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs were in mobility in Europe at the beginning of the crisis in March/April, so an adapted and reinforced accompaniment was provided to these young people in order to ensure their well-being and safety.
◊ 2 young people on a long term volunteering, in Finland.
A regular follow-up was set up with these 2 volunteers and with the partners in order to ensure their safety in the city where they were and in the implementation of their volunteering activities. A regular follow-up of the situation in Finland during the crisis was also done, until their return after the first wave of Covid-19, respectively in July and September.

◊ 4 young people volunteering in Portugal and Greece
The end of the volunteering experience for these young people was scheduled for March and April 2020, during the Covid-19 crisis. In order to allow the safe return of these young people, a reinforced accompaniment has been put in place, in collaboration with the host partners, local partners (DJSCS, City of Lamentin), with the French Agency Erasmus+ Youth and Sport and with the French Embassies in the respective countries. New flights were taken due to cancellations of previous flights taking into account all security measures issued by the French government and minimizing external contacts. A document containing all the information and security measures was sent to them and a follow-up was carried out throughout their return journey, thus allowing the young people to return to Martinique in complete safety.

In addition to that, a reinforced accompaniment was carried out during the volunteers’ stay during Covid-19 in order to ensure moral support, to reassure them and to inform them regularly of the evolution of the situation. Different online activities were also proposed during the first lock down between the volunteers of D’Antilles and D’Ailleurs in Europe in order to allow them to exchange with other young people living the same experience as them and to propose activities and occupations during the confinement.
In terms of mobility, during the year 2020, mainly before the beginning of the Covid-19 crisis, different people from Martinique had the opportunity to go abroad to train and develop their skills and knowledge.

Thus:

- 8 young people were able to participate in mobilities and exchanges where they had the opportunity to meet their peers in Europe, to exchange around themes of common interest (employment, culture...) and to develop their skills and knowledge during workshops and activities using non-formal methods.

- 10 young people had the opportunity to participate in 2 and 12 months European volunteering and to live a civic engagement experience in another country. They were able to discover another culture and acquire useful skills for their socio-professional integration by carrying out missions of general interest.
A. YOUTH MOBILITY

YOUTH EXCHANGE

Greece – Kokkino Nero – March 2020 – When the Environment Creates
4 young people from Martinique went to Greece, to Kokkino Nero, where they exchanged with about thirty young people from different European countries (Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Hungary, Italy, Poland, Romania, Turkey and Greece) in order to exchange around the preservation of the environment and the fight against youth unemployment to see the economic impact of the use or abuse of natural resources and, from there, try to find ways to create jobs and other employment opportunities to help preserve and protect them.

St Marteen – January 2020 – Act Local - Change Global
4 young people from Martinique participated in a youth exchange in St Marteen, with participants from Aruba, Anguilla, Croatia, Turkey and St Marteen, in order to exchange around the theme of youth engagement at the local level in order to bring about change at the global level, particularly in terms of environmental protection and climate change.

EUROPEAN VOLUNTEERS

Greece, Lefkas
In March and April 2020, two young people traveled to Lefkas, Greece to participate in a 2-month volunteer program around the implementation of environmental protection activities. During the volunteering, the activities were adapted to be carried out remotely due to the increase of COVID-19 cases and security measures.

Grèce, Ionnanina
In December 2020, a young person went to Ionnanina in Greece in order to carry out a 2-month voluntary service where he set up various activities around the creation of online communication tools and a website in order to promote the solidarity activities of the host structure.
Portugal, Faro
In March and April 2020, two young people went to Faro Portugal to participate in the implementation of activities in partnership with local associations of Faro, in favor of children from Roma communities in the city. During the volunteering, the activities were adapted to be carried out remotely due to the increase of COVID-19 cases and security measures.

Finland, Lemi
A young volunteer from Martinique traveled to Lemi in November 2019 on a long term volunteer program, during which she implemented educational, culinary, and cross-cultural activities for rural children and youth.

Finland, Rautavaara
A young woman from Martinique went to Finland in September 2019 to participate in an 11-month volunteer program. She took part in the daily activities of the association and in the organization of intercultural and European projects around different themes related to solidarity and inclusion.

Italy, Palermo
Following the two-month volunteering in 2019, one of the two volunteers went back to Italy in the same organization to do a long-term volunteering of ten months and continue the activities implemented in favor of children of migrant families in Palermo. Having found a job in the first quarter of 2020, she ended her volunteering to work.

Cyprus, Lefkosia
A young woman from Martinique went to Cyprus in November 2019 to participate in a long-term European volunteering program around the implementation of local activities related to entrepreneurship and the implementation of cultural initiatives; in favor of other volunteers and the local population.

Cyprus, Nicosia
A young woman from Martinique participated in a 10-month long term volunteering program in Nicosia with the association YEU, around the implementation of activities promoting the inclusion of refugees and migrants in Nicosia.
B. MY ISLAND OR ABROAD, I GET INVOLVED

In 2020, DA&DA set up the project "Mon île ou ailleurs, je m'engage" (My island or abroad, I get involved), whose objectives are: to allow young people in Martinique to benefit from increased accompaniment allowing them to overcome the obstacles they face and encouraging their participation in educational mobility projects; to develop the participation and commitment of young people in their territory in order to allow them to develop transversal competences and to take ownership of their spaces.

To this end, information meetings on educational mobility and commitment have been set up throughout the territory, reinforced support has been provided to young people going on a mobility trip (workshops to prepare before departure, individualized follow-up), locally adapted communication tools have been created, and training sessions for Martinique's youth actors on mobility schemes have been set up.

Due to the Covid-19 crisis and the decrease in the number of mobilities initially planned, some activities have been adapted, modified or added:

- Facebook lives on mobility and commitment have been set up to inform youth actors and young people about different educational mobility schemes for young people.

- Online conferences have been set up with Martinique youth actors to present mobility programmes and schemes.

- Partnerships with French Guiana and Guadeloupe, within the framework of the Antilles-Guiana Committee, have been strengthened and have led to the development of various projects related to youth mobility and also to the joint submission of an application for the Europe Direct Centre Antilles-Guiana label.

- Setting up of stands in the framework of the Martinique Civic Service Tour in order to present local and international mobility and youth engagement schemes.

- Continuity of actions and strengthening of the partnership with the members of COMOB - COllectif de la MOBilité en Martinique (collective of mobility in Martinique).
C. INVOLVED YOUTH

TESTIMONY OF A YOUNG PERSON WHO WENT ON MOBILITY

« My name is Laura, from Martinique. I will turn 26 years old soon. And I am on a volunteer mission in Finland from 2019 to 2020. I'm going to do a European Solidarity Corps for a year in Finland, this should give me the time I need to learn the language and enjoy the activities and traditions associated with the different seasons. I invite you to go on an adventure, don't be afraid of the language barrier, the temperature, the discrimination, the distance from family, not having dachine and breadfruit.... Leave! Leave to come back; leave to have something to share; leave to learn; leave to discover yourself; leave because it's free; leave because it feels good. »

- Laura
YOUTH HOSTED BY DA&DA

◊ Salomé
Salomé participated in a 6-month civic service at D’Antilles et D’Ailleurs that started in September 2020. Within this framework she participated in the implementation of several local actions of the structure in favor of vulnerable populations (women and youth), especially those most affected by the crisis.

◊ Chloé
In 2020, Chloe did an internship as part of her studies at D’Antilles et D’Ailleurs, in the administration department and thus supported the administrator in her tasks.

◊ Owan
Owan started a civic service at D’Antilles et D’Ailleurs at the beginning of 2020, in order to participate in the activities of the youth and mobility pole. However, due to the COVID-19 crisis and the lockdown cancelling all planned activities, he decided he would end his civic service prematurely.

◊ Julie
Julie participated in a one-year European volunteering program at D’Antilles et D’Ailleurs which ended in 2020 and during which she set up several actions and activities on the territory to disseminate information and raise awareness on European mobility programs.

InnoVolga

The Volga ka fé project was born out of consultation between the inhabitants of the neighborhood, members of the Volga-Plage Citizen's Council and the ADNPV association, volunteers from the NGO D'Antilles et D'ailleurs, the Lokal Life collective and the Poubél Bagay association. The project aims to raise awareness and contribute to changing the behaviour of the inhabitants of the Volga Plage neighborhood with regard to waste sorting and recycling, by reinforcing their sense of citizenship and active participation.

InnoVolga consists of two main areas, dealt with in workshops with the citizens of the neighborhood:
Ecological portrait workshops: constitution of working circles; strengths and resources of the neighborhood; actors, roles and functions of waste management; design of a questionnaire to collect data on sorting habits; identification of waste and collection points, discovery outings, evaluation of the potential of flows.
Material workshops: making plastic and aluminium recycling machines and learning how to use them in the neighborhood by using the waste collected by the inhabitants.

InnoVolga ended at the end of 2020 and during the project 6 eco-citizen workshops were held for and with more than 50 participants, and an ecological portrait of the neighborhood as seen by its inhabitants was produced. In addition, 2 ecobinaries were organized as part of the EWWR, focusing in particular on the making of organic washing powder.
Finally, several videos were produced and posted on Youtube as part of the project on the workshops carried out, the manufacture of the recycling furnace, the transformation of plastic, etc.

Contest: Jenes Wobè pa ka fè lafet

In partnership with companies, neighborhood associations, CCAS, youth associations, a cascading grant through a call for projects (contest), is set up to support 3 initiatives led by young people. The aim of the contest is to encourage and promote the commitment and initiatives of young people in relation to environmental protection and active citizenship. The 3 initiatives will be accompanied in the preparation, realization and follow-up of their projects and will thus be able to appropriate and to familiarise themselves with the tools and skills necessary to move from idea to concrete action.

In 2019, the contest, open exclusively to young people from the priority neighborhoods of Le Robert, was a great success, with a good visibility both on social networks with more than 3000 people reached and nearly 1000 online votes, and on the institutional level, by "re-branding" the image of young people in the urban policy districts. Among the winners, the prize enabled Gilles Sylvestre to complete his hygiene training, to define a graphic charter, to launch his catering business using local produce and his grandmother’s traditional recipes ("Kay sympa"), and for Gynel C (a team made up of two sisters and a brother) to invest in audio-visual equipment to improve the quality of the videos produced to promote sports practices and sportsmen and women in Martinique and to form an association to develop their business.

Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the jury and the opening of applications had to be postponed to 2021. In 2020, however, two writing workshops were held to help young people formalise their project idea. Two radio appearances were made to promote and present the project and more than 10,000 young people were reached on social networks via the communication campaigns put in place.
Training: Je donne des ailes à mon idée (I give wings to my idea)

The aim of the "Je donne des ailes à mon idée" (I give wings to my idea) project is to stimulate the entrepreneurial spirit of the beneficiaries of the PLIE (Local Integration and Employment Plan) by developing the aptitudes and skills identified in each beneficiary. The project starts with a diagnosis of the person and his/her skills and continues with the acquisition of knowledge, know-how and life skills in order to better respond to the needs of the labour market and/or business creation.

Training cycles have been set up to enable participants to learn to observe their environment in order to detect a business opportunity, to target a project according to individual capacities and circumstances, to formalise an economic project with a structured and reliable methodology and to move from the idea to the formalisation of a project.

Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the third cycle of the project had to be adapted to a distance learning format. For this purpose, different tools and methods known to the beneficiaries were used (such as WhatsApp) and some beneficiaries were also trained to use Zoom. During this last cycle, 3 people participated in the workshops and benefited from post-workshop support to accompany them in their professional and/or business project.
ARTE MOUN : L’Art de nous-même (Art of ourselves)

The Arte Moun project is inspired by the ArteMigrante Festival in Valencia (initiated by the Jarit association, a partner of DA&DA) and aims to make the voice of vulnerable groups, victims of discrimination, known and recognized through a convivial moment around art and culture. The aims of the project are to encourage collective initiatives, which encourage the gathering of inhabitants around the transmission of culture, to improve the living environment in the neighborhoods by encouraging artistic production and creating artistic events in the urban spaces and to fight against discrimination.

The project is divided into 3 phases:
Reflection: Setting up brainstorming workshops and elaborating messages and freeing up speech with different audiences who are victims of discrimination.
Passage: Translation of the messages into works of art through meetings between the participants of the workshops and the artists.
Demonstration: Two-day Festival, during which the general public is invited to discover the messages of the different groups and meet them and the artists.

Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the workshops and the festival had to be postponed until 2021.
"Mon île ou ailleurs: #Jemengage: Martinique (My island or elsewhere, I get involved)

The mission of the project "Mon île ou ailleurs #je m'engage: Martinique" (My island or elsewhere, I get involved) is to promote and strengthen the active participation in civil society of vulnerable young people, living in rural areas of Martinique, facing difficulties that are social, economic (unemployment, precarious employment), geographical (from rural areas and living in an outermost region) and educational (NEET, school dropout/failure, early school leavers).

To this end, two types of workshops are set up for young people in rural Martinique. The first workshops inform young people about access to social rights and make them aware of the importance of their active participation in civil society. The second workshop introduces the young people to the creation of voxpop and develops their technical and digital skills in terms of video editing and reflection on the content of the interviews. Following these workshops, the young people go to their local communities to interview other young people and to make portraits of young people. These videos will be presented at final events in the presence of elected representatives, local partners, young people, media and the local population.

In 2020, several meetings and planning were carried out with local structures and partners in order to set up the workshops. However, the implementation of the workshops has been postponed to 2021 due to the November 2020 lockdown.
Eco-citizenship : Re-Store

Re-Store is a collaborative initiative created by the eco-citizen collective Lokal Life, the association D'Antilles & D'Ailleurs and Axelle, content creator. Re-Store is an event that gives a second life to clothes and accessories, while discovering high solidarity projects and making the most of local products. With this initiative the aim is to support the reduction of textile waste, promote sustainable development, recycling, the circular economy, short circuits and the collaborative economy.

The Re-Store events start upstream with the collection and sorting of clothes from individuals wishing to participate in the events. In exchange, they get credits that they can then use at Re-Store events to get new clothes, brought by others.

In 2020, a Re-Store event was held on 13 September in Case-Pilote at "Boutique Madi Sail" with a collection launched in July. At the event, approximately 150 people participated throughout the day, all in compliance with barrier measures and procedures.
Mouv'Outremer

D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs took part in the Mouv'Outremer seminar, which aimed to forge links between participants with a view to building the Mouv'Outremer community together, developing some soft skills around the four pillars inherent in the key skills of the 21st century: Cooperation, Communication, Creativity and Constructive Criticism, and enriching your project and refining your positioning.

The seminar took place from 19 to 23 October and was composed of activities related to the presentation of the Sustainable Development Goals, the elaboration and support of one's project, collective decision making, the meeting of companies and Martinican actors of the sustainable transition... The seminar was then followed by work in pairs to deepen the skills and projects developed during the seminar.

A second seminar was then held from 23 to 26 November, this time focusing on impact, allowing participants to discover methods, tools and prototypes for analysing the ecosystem, defining economic models, etc.
Patchwork

The Patchwork project, launched at the end of 2020, consists of setting up an upcycling workshop and professional training in sewing for the socio-professional integration of 15 migrant women who are victims of prostitution and live in the Terres Sainville neighbourhood (Fort-de-France).

The objectives of the project are to promote the socio-professional inclusion of 30 migrant women in a very vulnerable situation through the learning of sewing and the creation of a production space, to promote the acquisition of sewing at a professional level and interpersonal skills for 15 women, to allow the emancipation and empowerment of at least 15 women through a creative act (sewing) and the trend of upcycling by giving them access to a safe and stimulating space, to enable 100 women to increase their purchasing power through the workshop's productions, to raise awareness in local communities about responsible consumption and waste reduction and to develop an economic and operating model for the production workshop, providing a sustainable the space and the generating of income for the women.

Thus, the 15 women will develop their skills and produce ecological works with a high economic potential within a sewing workshop dedicated to textile upcycling, waste reduction and the socio-professional integration of women. The productions of the workshop will be promoted and sold in a dedicated space at the ground floor of the workshop and during the Re-Store events ("Brunch and solidarity shopping"). A part of the production will be given to women, actors of awareness-raising actions and ambassadors of eco-responsible products.

Go Responsible

Launched in 2019, the Go Responsible project brings together D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs (coordinator) in partnership with the social enterprise, Solidarity Tracks (Greece) and BAAT, the Bulgarian association for the promotion of alternative tourism. The project aims to strengthen the key skills and entrepreneurial knowledge of young people in responsible tourism through mentoring, non-formal education, e-permanence support and e-commerce tutorials. And on the other hand, to provide professionals working in the youth field with adapted and open access tools and resources.

Within the framework of the project, an online platform is created. The objective and ambition of this European Portal of Responsible Tourism is: to be the first non-profit Euro-Caribbean platform dedicated to youth initiatives of Responsible Tourism and proposing to list and give visibility to the already existing European initiatives/companies/services of Responsible Tourism, as well as those created within the framework of the project, to propose a space of work and accompaniment of the young project leaders (accompanied by the project Take your chance, Go responsible! and beyond the partnership) through the FORUM space, animated by each of the partners.

Also, in 2020: 2 training sessions on "entrepreneurship and responsible tourism" for 17 participants in total, followed by distance coaching, 3 online webinars gathering more than 30 participants worldwide, 7 e-tutorial videos were created (playlist on youtube) by experts and a mapping of responsible tourism initiatives was made.

React-Act Prevent Sexual Violence through Youth work

The React-Act Prevent Sexual Violence Through Youth Work project, ending in December 2020, involves 5 EU countries, namely Cyprus, Greece, Poland, France (Martinique) and Spain. This project aims to provide youth NGOs with innovative tools and means to adopt, plan and implement successful prevention policies, strategies, programmes and practices to combat sexual violence against children, adolescents and young people. Approaches used include information sharing, awareness raising, education, training, networking and cooperation, using non-formal learning tools and methods. The project activities include mobilities of youth workers and young people concerning the prevention of sexual violence, setting up online challenges to raise awareness of young people and youth workers about the fight against sexual violence, setting up coordination meetings with the project partners, creating an online forum and open space to increase the accessibility of information, the creation of a booklet on European legislation and practices on the prevention of sexual violence. Within the framework of the project, an online platform was created with modules developed by the partners for youth workers to implement activities to prevent and combat sexual violence.

Link to the platform
Act Positive

The aim of the Act Positive project is to improve the resilience and use the strengths of young European generation migrants, based on positive psychology theory, through the development of courses, innovative training tools and a fun e-learning platform to support 2nd generation migrants to develop relevant skills that will enable them to achieve employability, using key concepts and processes of positive psychology.

During the project, research will be initiated addressing the following areas: What are the necessary skills that the training course for second generation migrants should address to improve their employability? Which is the most appropriate format for training materials and learning content to meet the needs of the target groups? What type of pedagogical approach should the partners apply to ensure the highest possible participation in the project's training courses? What is the most appropriate and effective way to evaluate the training materials and the overall project results? What other existing resources can be adapted/redesigned to maximize the effectiveness of project products?

In 2020, the project and research were launched locally at each of the project partners following the Kick Off Meeting which was held online due to the health crisis.
Taste of Fusion Learning

The Taste of fusion Learning project was launched in March 2020. The objective of this project is to develop and implement an innovative learning pathway, where fusion recipes become the tool for acquiring key skills (verbal, numerical and digital literacy). Sixty adult migrant women (single mothers with few qualifications, low income, marginalized, ...) are accompanied through a multi-sensory approach. The project is implemented in partnership with the associations Elan Interculturel (Paris); Digmun (Ceuta - Spain) and Cesie (Italy).

Project activities include the creation of training modules on the multi-sensory approach, literacy; community mapping for intercultural learning; the establishment of fusion recipe laboratories; digital skills training courses, the production of fusion recipe videos.

In 2020, partners were hosted in Martinique for a multi-sensory learning training, interrupted by the announcement of the first lockdown. Another training, online this time, was conducted as well as about 30 workshops in Martinique of literary and numerical literacy through activities related to fusion cookery.
Fusion

Launch of the project Fusion - Intercultural Education for Social Inclusion in the framework of this project led by the Italian NGO Cesie in partnership with associations from Martinique, Kenya, Ecuador, Spain and India, Da&Da will host, for ten months, two young volunteers from India and Ecuador who will work on an educational kit about heritage and youth inclusion. There will be a ten-month volunteer opportunity in India.

The project began with a kick-off meeting in February 2020, which was held between the various project partners and coordinators. Due to the COVID-19 health crisis and the inability of partners and volunteers to travel, much of the project activities have been postponed to 2021.
You Get Competencies

The project “You get competencies” aims at sharing and pooling knowledge, experiences and reflections of youth actors on social inclusion and employment support of young people without qualifications to broaden the educational approaches of youth structures, to promote the transfer of practices between all participating countries, to involve local partners of participating countries throughout the project to support and integrate young people without qualifications.

For this purpose, surveys and interviews with young people without qualifications and local companies are organized to find out the personal and professional skills needed to secure employment. Subsequently, a framework of key competencies to be possessed in order to get a job (from the point of view of the young person as well as the employer) is realized and put online on youtheclub.eu. An educational booklet is also produced to promote the project's sound educational practices via youtheclub.eu. Finally, thematic workshops for young people are set up to facilitate their professional integration.

In 2020, a data collection on transversal skills was organized between Martinique, Greece and Portugal, followed by activities ‘My representation of the world of work’ organized at the local level in the 3 partners.
In April 2020 the Made In Women project was launched, led by Da&Da in partnership with organizations from Dominica, Madagascar, Luxembourg, Italy and Peru. The project aims to develop the MadeInWomen e-commerce platform. A network of women who, by purchasing products "made exclusively by women", support their empowerment and emancipation.

The women designers will be gradually integrated into the development strategy and will actively participate in the decision making regarding the projects and actions to be carried out with a share of the profits generated by the sales and at any time they will be free to leave the platform and launch their own branding.
Punch

The Municipality of Castrignano dei Greci, in partnership with the Cultural Association "Fattoria Pugliese Diffusa", has decided to develop the project "P.U.N.C.H." (Participation of citizens far from the EU for the enhancement of cultural heritage) within the framework of the democratic commitment and civic participation and the specific measure Network of Cities of the Europe for Citizens Program. The objective of the project is to give underrepresented citizens the tools to actively participate in the construction of EU policies and to create intercultural initiatives for valorizing the European cultural heritage, as a tool for inclusion and cohesion for small communities in rural and peripheral areas.

The PUNCH project represents a network of 16 partners (4 associations linked to municipalities, 5 municipalities and 7 civil society organizations) from 11 countries of the European Union and Macedonia and Serbia. The activities of the project focus on the exchange of good practices between the project partners in the field of heritage valorization and the socio-economic integration of young people in difficulty. The project also foresees the training of 16 youth leaders / decision makers and local administrators and the organization of activities related to this theme.
EC-Net Network of town

The objectives of the EC-Net project are to evaluate the long-term impact of the projects implemented as city networks over 10 years on citizens, direct participants and participating institutions; but also to improve the understanding of the programme’s priorities during the year and to formulate recommendations for the new decade of the City Networks and Europe for Citizens programme (or its successor), as well as to have the opportunity to work with strong partners across Europe.

The main activities of the project will be 6 international events, accompanied by participatory research, interviews and communication activities. Project participants (policy makers, civil servants, activists) will share their practice and experience, drawing inspiration from each other. The project also plans to engage in direct dialogue with policy makers and administrators of the Europe for Citizens program for a tangible impact.
Walking Towards Employability

Launch of the project Walking Towards Employability - unlocking the entrepreneurial skills of vulnerable communities through Walking Tours in October 2020. The project originates from the need of the partner organizations to identify sustainable and transferable entrepreneurial models for young people and, above all, to address their socio-economic inclusion. More specifically, the project designs and tests an innovative skills pathway for young people built around the Walking tours model.

The project designs and tests an innovative skills pathway for young people built around the walking tour model and based on five innovative modules and tools: Starting a sustainable collaborative walking tour business? A mapping of perspectives and initiatives. Create a tourist attraction where apparently there is nothing? What is it and how to organize it? How to set up a Sustainable Walking Tour? The course combines forms of entrepreneurship (business networks and collaborative economy) with the educational values of cultural heritage and social cohesion (community and/or responsible tourism).
VIP Everywhere

The aim of the VIP Everywhere project is to reduce the incidence of all forms of violence in the school reality, a major step in the prevention of school dropout and juvenile delinquency, by training teachers from high-risk educational environments, designing, adapting and putting into practice activities to prevent and reduce violence in schools, raising students' awareness of all possible types of violence, as well as of the negative impact of the phenomenon, both as a victim and as an aggressor, developing effective strategies for dealing with violent problems and sharing experience of good practice at European level. To achieve this, this strategic partnership addresses students, teachers, parents and the local community.

Through the activities of the project, teachers and students will be better able to oppose violence as they acquire skills and strategies against violence, learn preventive means and where to turn when exposed to violence on themselves or on those around them. Parents and local community members will be informed about violence and learn how to deal with it. With the help of this project, students, teachers and educational personnel from different countries will have the opportunity to communicate, share their ideas and feelings on the subject.
Green Interculturality

Green Interculturality has a twofold objective: Firstly, to foster the inclusion of adult migrants by developing language skills, increasing networking, integrating a new environmental context and valuing their knowledge and experience. On the other hand, the project also aims to provide adult educators with pedagogical tools so that they can implement inclusion workshops related to environmental awareness.

The activities of the project are the realization of discussion groups and research on the intersectionality between social inclusion and environmental awareness, the implementation of workshops: co-construction theater with adult migrants and members of the host society using forum theater; co-construction linguistics with adult migrants aimed at stimulating the acquisition of linguistic, environmental and intercultural skills; co-construction art therapy with adult migrants and members of the host society in order to create an eco-responsible map of the places in the area to appropriate the physical space for better integration.

In 2020, the project started with the realization of a kick-off meeting between the partners. The action research was also launched on the integration of migrant people through activities related to the environment.

2021 PERSPECTIVES
More regular resumption of mobility
Several mobility projects for young people and youth actors (exchanges, training, volunteering...), as well as transnational meetings in the framework of cooperation projects, had to be postponed to 2021 because of the health crisis. These mobilities will be resumed when the health situation is more conducive to mobility.

Expect the unexpected
Realization of a European training of youth actors of 9 days which will be held in Martinique and which aims at developing and equipping the youth actors of 11 organizations of Europe and the OR with knowledge and effective tools for the management of crisis situations during European youth projects related to mobility.

Power of time
Implementation of a European training for youth actors from 11 European organizations, in June 2021, with the aim of offering participants involved in volunteer programs the opportunity to exchange and acquire key knowledge and skills on how to manage a self-help network called "The Bank of Time", as well as methods to energize volunteers.

Yes Club
Launch of phase II of the Yes Club project - Youth Entrepreneurs Social Clubs, a learning platform dedicated to youth workers and professionals in order to strengthen their skills and knowledge and better accompany young people in the development of projects with a high social impact.

Agros
Launching of the AGROS project, implemented by 7 partners with the aim of promoting green roofs as a citizens' response to environmental protection, active participation and involvement of citizens, and the sustainable development strategy of municipalities and areas and providing the target groups with all the necessary skills and knowledge oriented towards green roof practices.
Perse
The Perse project aims to promote the creation and sustainable development of youth workers who can serve as "social bridges" between the educational, cultural and creative sectors across Europe. Through a unique experiential learning method that will merge art, research and technology-based learning, they will be able to co-design with an artist, a scientist... engaging educational activities for young people to stimulate their creativity while experimenting with the links between different disciplines and enhancing the development of their key competences.

CopArte
The CopArte project aims to create training modules for young professionals in order to equip these workers with tools so that the young people (in vulnerable situations) they accompany can establish autonomous youth business cooperatives. The content of the activities will be based on the identification and development of socio-emotional skills, digital skills and creative and intercultural skills.

DiGi-tool: Distance Guidance & Innovation
The Digi-Tool project aims to modernize and update the educational tools of the participating organizations, so that they can meet the current needs of the target group. It also aims to develop the skills of youth educators in terms of monitoring methods and non-formal distance education.

New Office
In 2021, D'Antilles et D'Ailleurs is moving its offices to a new location: Le Trois Lieu. Designed like a puzzle with interlocking pieces, Le Trois-Lieu is home to three associations (DA&DA, Le Mouvement du Nid, FLAM - Femmes Latino-Américaines en Mouvement) all driven by a desire for social innovation. Combining their fields of action, they work together with a network of partners to accompany the various publics, promoting an integrated and intersectional approach to socio-economic integration, bringing together in one place all the collaborative energies.
